EMPATHY EDUCATION @BBTNB

"Hmmm" pictured here is a dad with a wife, four kids and his mother all planning to live with him in the Arctic. It is cold, hard to walk around and the Arctic large open spaces. He has just lost his job with a major diamond company and can't afford to build a house big enough so that he can bring his family to him.

- If you can help please consider:
- He loves Ice Fishing
 - His sons all need their own rooms
 - Grandma needs her own room and bathroom
 - Building them a way to get to the lake is important because walking is hard
 - It is almost always night time
 - Small but Tall houses (with small roofing footprints) help conserve heat
 - Everything needs to be above ground because the ground is frozen solid
 - When it snows on homes the snow stays for a very long time
 - Anything else that may help The Freising Family live comfortably in the Arctic safe from Polar bears!
